PEGGY

The clever PEGGY socket strip from BACHMANN promises a new dimension in flexibility and freedom for workbenches, garages and hobby rooms. You can rely on PEGGY wherever you need electricity without having to depend on the availability of sockets.

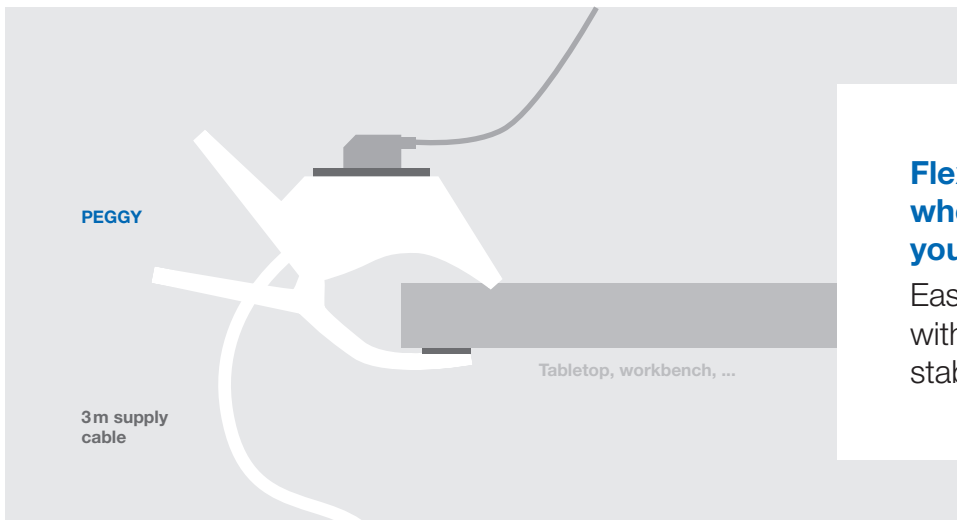

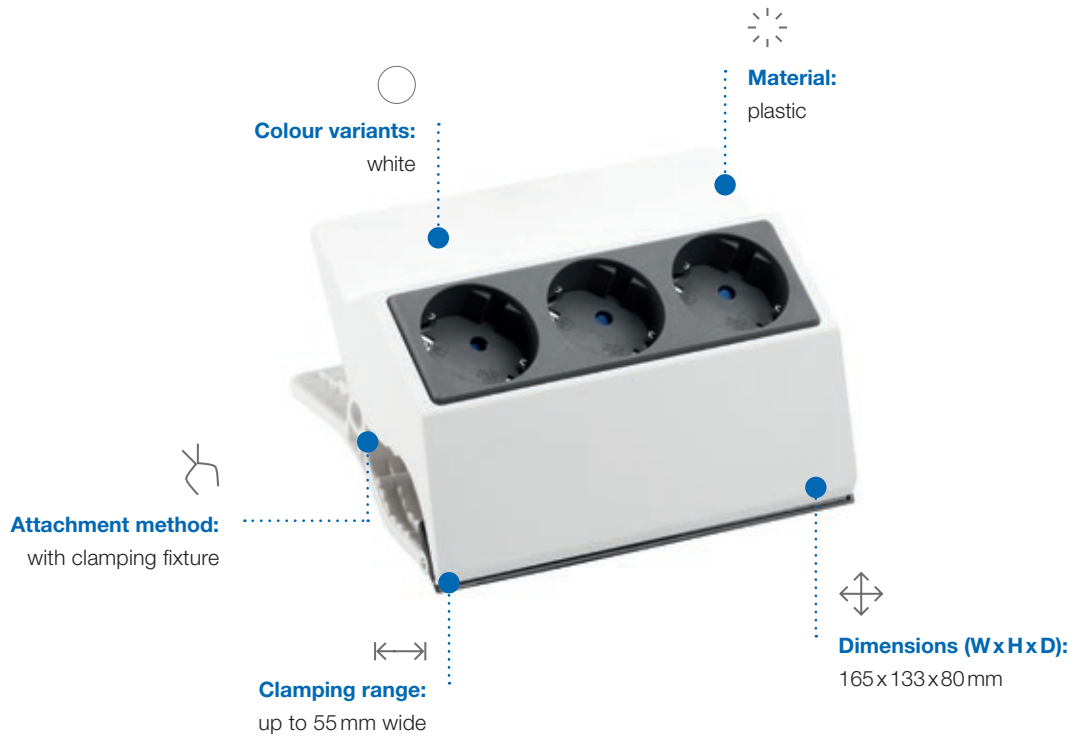

Thanks to its clamping fixture, the reliable multiple socket can be mounted without any tools on the ends of tables, worktops, mounting aids, workbenches, ladders or door leaves – just where you need it. Do you swap workbenches? Simply take PEGGY with you and clamp it in place in your new working environment.

The cable length of 3 metres guarantees you freedom of movement to do the job in hand. Its enhanced touch protection, heavy-duty design and stable clamping fixture grip make PEGGY a true all-rounder and handy DIY helpmate.
